During the past two years the Board of Selectmen have issued only a few carnival permits, and then only to churches. It is their stated policy that they will issue carnival permits for the Town Memorial Park, which is located at some distance from the nearest home but no carnival operator seems to be interested in this site.

LITTLE LEAGUERS ON PARADE
LED BY MAYOR GEORGE SPANOS and Little League Officials, and marching to the music of the Wilmington High School Band, Wilmington's Little League marched proudly to the Murray Little League Park last Saturday morning.

LITTLE LEAGUE FIELD DEDICATED

Grant Mits Homer

Wilmington's Murray Field, home of the Little League was dedicated last Saturday, just before the opening game of the season.

Following a parade from Wilmington's Masonic Hall, the Stars and Stripes were raised to the tune of the Star Spangled Banner, played by the High School Band, and His Honor, George Spanos, Mayor of Wilmington threw the first ball.

Last year's champions, the Tigers, sponsored by the Unit Packet, opened the season defeating Fred Cain's Red Sox 6 to 0.

Jeff Williams, n, Tiger Pitcher allowed only one hit, and that of the scratch variety. Jeff and his partner, Mike Farrell, catcher, are an experienced battery, having played the same positions last year.

The opposing battery, Frank Ingram, pitcher, and Danny Mackay, catcher, without the experience of Williamson and Farrell, allowed several walks, which contributed to the Tiger victory.

First man to cross the plate in the 1958 season was Billy Ritchie, center field and pitcher for the Tigers. Billy made his run on a passed ball.

Williamson faced nineteen batters and struck out sixteen of them.

AN EXCELLENT PREVIEW

The Little League Parade of last Saturday, attractive in itself, also provided an excellent preview of what is to come on Memorial Day.

Our Wilmington High School Band has come a long way in the past few years.

Those of us who were able to attend its two recent performances in the High School know how well our band can play.

Those who heard it during the Little League Parade heard only half the band, and have a knowledge of only a small portion of the band's capabilities.

But the Little League Parade was an excellent preview. We should have music on Memorial Day that will rank among the never to be forgotten events of this small town.

THE LITTLE LEAGUE FIELD

Wilmington can be proud of the Little League Field this year. It is one of the best in the state, to our way of thinking.

This field is the result of a lot of work on the part of a group of devoted men.

There is a danger that the Little League will lose the field. The company which owns the property has moved their plant from Wakefield to Westford and is expected to move the materials in their Wilmington warehouse there too, after which they will probably try to sell the property.

Our Board of Selectmen have expressed themselves as being aware of the problem. Perhaps, through the Wilmington Recreation Commission or through the Wilmington Community Fund suitable site can be found and bought.

It is a thought for the future.

NICHOLS STREET WATER

The people of Nichols Street, and their friends on Fairmeadow Road and Jere Road have a bitter pill to swallow. If Wilmington is to install water mains on Nichols Street it will be
by the Betterment System.

Barring this water will have to be supplied by the Town of Tewksbury, or there will be no water.

This fact, sad as it may be to Nichols St.
is the only conclusion that can be made from the informal hearing on May 21st. Frank Hagerty with the patience of Job, pointed out again and again that the Betterment Law had been accepted by the town, and that there was no other legal way to install water mains as a result.

The meeting wasn't exactly one of pleasure.
Acting in concert the sixty odd residents of the three streets searched for a way to have the town pay for a part or all of the cost of the water main. There were some hard words said too - unreasoning accusations of town officials
"hiding behind the skirts of the town counsel"
were made.

Several times Mr. Hagerty told the group that the laws of the land constitute the government of this town, this state, and this country. The reasoning was refused by the majority of his listeners, who left the meeting after one and one half hours determined to hire one of the most prominent attorneys in Massachusetts, a man often named as a potential candidate for the Democratic nomination as Attorney General, to conduct their fight for them on the floor of the Town Meeting.

One thought, frequently expressed was that the State Board of Health would not allow Tewks-bury to shut off the water. Mr. Hagerty pointed out that this might possibly be the case for a short period of time, but it still didn't solve the problem.

If the State Board of Health were called in it might very well refuse to do anything. The Town of Wilmington has voted to install water mains in a lawful manner. In this case the town meeting at the behest of these people has refused to install water mains on Nichols Street.

The State Health officials might very well
say "You have the legal means to install water, and you refuse to use it - now you want us to provide an extra legal remedy".

Another proposal which has been made is to have the town vote to rescind the law for the purpose of allowing water to be voted on a street (i.e. Nichols Street) "just this once"
and then revoke the Betterment Act.

Nothing could be more destructive to the Town of Wilmington, short of an atom bomb or such a catastrophe, than to vote for such a thing "just this once".

In the last annual town meeting this proposition was made in effect for one of our oldest and most respected citizens, in a land re-

TOWN NOTES

Weather

Our rainy weekends continue.
This one spoiled the annual
May procession of St. Thomas Church, disappointing many of our youngsters, not to mention their mothers who had spent so much time getting ready for the procession.

So far we have had 3.87
inches of rain in May, enough to keep the grass green, but we have seen plenty of water
being sprinkled just the same.

One of the purposes of our reporting the weekly rainfall is to enable our readers to know whether or not the lawn needs sprinkling. If there has been an inch of rain in the preceding week, and you sprinkle your lawn you are just wasting your money.

Such as is the case right now

Pudding Pint

We carried an item in this column about Pudding Point, over in North Reading, where Park Street joins Route 28, and how Mr. Meltzer had been unable to furnish us with information.

One of our local readers was able to - Elmer Eaton of Bal-lardvale Street. His father who was the last gate tender
at Brown's Crossing, when the Salem & Lowell Railroad ran through Wilmington, was born in North Reading.

Mr. Eaton tells us that it was not Pudding Point, but Pudding Pint, and it got its name from an old man who lived there over a century ago, and loved Indian Pudding. He ate it in copious quantities, out of a pint bowl - hence the name.

Mr. Eaton also told us that the little brook that crosses
West Street near the Reading
line was once known as 'Dirty Brook', because the water was so constantly stirred up by the cattle that they refused to drink it. The woods down there, he says, was known as Porcupine Woods, for what must have been an obvious reason.

The Star Spangled Banner

The scene was at the Little League Field. The parade had just finished. Two hundred Little Leaguers lined the foul-lines, on each side of the field. 600 fans stood alongside the fence or sat in the bleachers.

On the field the officials of Little League were busy with the details of lining up the boys. Domenic De Grazia, Director of the High School band had everything ready for the Star Spangled Banner. He stood with baton raised, awaiting the signal from President Bob Hastings of the Little League.

A figure climbed over the fence. A portly man, he carried a camera, and is known to many people as the photogra-zoning case. If the people of Wilmington could have voted for the proposition without putting our Zoning Law into jeopardy they might have done so, but the danger was recognized.

To ask that the Water Betterment Act be rescinded "just this once" is just as dangerous if not more so.

Arguments are now being circulated about town that The Street Betterment vote specifically exempted 15 streets, the inference being that we can exempt Nichols Street from Water Betterments if we temporarily "just this once" rescind the Water Betterment Law.

It is true that 15 streets were exempted from the Betterment Act until such time as they had finally been constructed (one of those streets being Fairmeadow Road). This was done with the full knowledge of the town, BEFORE specifically voting for the street betterment program. To attempt to include any other street now would result in anarchy in our street building program, and a much higher tax rate for years to come.

And we did not vote to exempt any street from Water Betterments. To attempt to do so now would result in just as much anarchy and just as much high taxes.

(From Fr. Pg.)

Indians 5 Yankees 3

The second game of the opening double header saw Chisholm's Indians defeat the Ford Yankees 5 to 3.

Tommy Grant, Indian Short-stop blasted the ball over the right field fence for the only homer of the day. Grant made a hit each time he was at the plate, four for four. His homer enabled Keith Gunning to cross the plate in addition to himself. Porky Newhouse, Indian Catcher, displayed smart baseball in the fifth inning when he attempted a sacrifice bunt. It didn't work out, but Newhouse reached first on a fielder's choice. The Yankees rallied strong in the sixth, with a double by James Gillis to start the frame. Anderson made a base on balls. Pinch hitter Bouvier struck out, and Stuart

INSTALLING SUITE OF WILMINGTON ORDER OF RAINBOW FOR GIRLS, LAST THURSDAY
Junior College students played a prominent part in the installation of new officers of the Wilmington Order of Rainbow for Girls, last Thursday, in the Masomic Apartments on Church Street.

pher of the Lowell daily paper. It did not matter that the Star Spangled Banner was just about to be played. He wanted his picture, and he wanted it in a hurry.

Here you' he bellowed at Bob Hastings, 'I have to get a picture of the flag raising'.

Mr. De Grazia lowered his baton. Mr. Hastings, accompanied by Mayor Spanos dutifully followed instructions and went over to the flagpole where their pictures were taken.

Then the figure climbed over the fence. Hastings nodded to De Grazia.

The band played the Star Spangled Banner.

State Hears Smell

'The smell is worse than ever,' said the complainants. 'We've hired experts, and really are working on it,' said industry.

North Reading Bound Again

The State Department of Public Works have discovered an old old story to the Town of Wilmington.

Their surveys for the new Route 93 indicates that the boundary stone between North Reading and Wilmington, on Concord Street is 300 feet out of position.

It is to be presumed that they are working from United States Geological Survey maps. The Middlesex County maps do not show this discrepancy, according to our understanding and those are the maps that the Middlesex County Commissioners must use in determining Town Bounds.

Well placed rumor has long said that the Barden home, the last one in Wilmington on Concord Street was originally built in the town of North Reading, and the bounds later shifted, putting the home in Wilmington.

The State surveyors are also of the belief that the bound at Salem Street, near the Cronin plant is 100 feet out of position. This is the old corner stone for the Land of Nod a locale in the present North Wilmington which was so named back in 1672 or earlier.

STUDENTS ENTE RTAIN AT FINAL PTA MEETING

One hundred students entertained PTA members with songs, band music, a fashion show, drama, and an art exhibit at the meeting May 20.

The Art exhibit under the direction of Supervisor Mrs. Evelyn R. Anderson and Paul Ciano filled the Home Economics and Art rooms. This was a remarkable display of all forms of art ranging from wood cuts, paper mache forms thru modernistic water colors and works in pencil and oil. Also on exhibit were the NE and national prize winning pieces of Wilmington student art.

The Glee Club of more than 40 voices, under the direction of Miss Lorraine Kalil offered four selections, including the solo by Annette Visconti, 'Getting to Know You.' The others were 'This is My Country,' 'Make Believe You're Brave,' and 'I'll Walk with God.' Accompanist was Carol Schiavone.

A fashion show was staged by Miss Regina Michell with 21 domestic science students modeling their own creations, ranging from shorts, sun suits to winter suits. Phyllis Ryan was fashion commentator. Models were Isabel Berry, Janice Buck, Virginia Carpenter, Joan Currier, Carol Randell, Dolores Gagnon, Janice Kimball, Marlene Kimball, Beverly Garrett, Barbara Gurski, Elaine Natoli, Mary Quandt, Ruth Ann Spalding, Georgette Dispo, Carol Rice, Carol Gray, Linda Reading, Sheila Reynolds, Joan Aruda, Marily Boyle, Patricia Manuel.

'scene from 'Arsenic and Old Lace' was performed by Mr. Ciano's Drama Group, assisted by Miss Janet Condrey and Miss Carolyn Mahr. The cast were all 8th graders: Ann MacDougall, Daniel Moegelin, Betsey Flight, Edwin Forest, George Lafionatis, Stephen Ridley, William Tupper, Dean Cail, Katrina Keough, Kevin Field, Kevin McKelvey, John Collin, Jr. The Band, under the direction of Composer-Bandmaster Dominec DeGrazia, played the National Anthem, marches, and 'Abide with Me'. Particularly impressive was the memorial minute of silence except for the roll of drums, followed by a series of faultless Taps from various sections of the Auditorium. The consensus is that the Wilmington School Band is ready for band competition.

Over 150 attended. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Charles McLaughlin and her committee.

B & M MAKES NEW PROPOSALS ON NICHOLS STREET BRIDGE

The latest proposals of the Boston & Maine Railroad, concerning the Nichols Street bridge would see the railroad raising the two ends of the bridge, so as to make it more level, and eliminate the excessive hump in the center of the bridge.

The town, according to these proposals would have to reconstruct the approaches to meet the new grade, and also to make any changes necessary to eliminate the 'blind' curve. The railroad stated that it would be willing to also construct a separated sidewalk over the bridge, if the town would pay for it.

In Monday night's Selectmen Meeting the Selectmen were distinctly cool to the offer, as being insufficient.

WOBURN STREET GARAGE APPLICATION TERMED A 'REQUEST FOR 3RD CLASS GARAGE'

The owner of a garage, being built on Woburn Street, near Eames Street will have to pay a personal visit to the Board of Selectmen, if he wishes to get a permit he has asked for. Don Robinson Inc., of 785 Woburn Street has submitted an application for a permit to buy and sell and repair dump bodys, trucks and trailers, including the welding and altering of same.

Calling this a permit for a Third Class Garage, Selectman Nick De Felice demanded that the owner be called in to explain just what he wants. (The Selectmen are not issuing 3rd Class Garage licenses)

Mr Robinson has been requested to attend the June 2nd meeting.

MERI-MACS WIN OVER TOWNIES IN CLOSE GAME

The third week of Wilmington Softball league play was highlighted by a close and hard-fought game when Townies lost to Meri-macs by a 3 to 2 score. Another good game was the 10-10 tie between the Stingers and the American Legion.

So far the four top teams have each lost at least one game—J W Greer Co, Meri-Mac's Stinger's and Townies.

Vacancies still exist on some of the teams. Wilmington residents, or workers at one of the plants sponsoring a team, at least 18 years of age are eligible to play.

All games are played at the Town park during week-day evenings, starting time 6:30 p.m.

STATE HEARS PROS AND CONS OF THE SMELL

The Massachusetts Public Health Commission and Counsel are now considering the material and evidence offered at the hearing conducted last Friday, May 23 in Room 480 at the State House.

The Town of Wilmington was represented at the hearing by Acting Manager Alfred Calabrese and Health Agent and Sanitarian Patrick A Thibau. Thibau reported that in 1956 a number of calls began coming in complaining of an intense fishy odor. Investigation by Wilmington officials revealed no cause within Wilmington, that apparently the source came from over the Woburn line. Calabrese respectfully requested that the nuisance be abated.

Other Wilmington residents present to offer testimony were former Town Manager Joseph Courtney and Mrs. Garrett of Ledge Road. Town Counsel Philip Buzzell also attended the hearing.

In answer to questioning by Reading Town Counsel Amon, Reading Board of Health Agent Shaw related the experience of Reading and offered as evidence several samples taken from various suspected sources. Henry O Swain, Jr. who lives on top of a hill on Jere Rd, close to the Reading-Woburn line testified that lately the smell has been more intense, that it has persisted in winter as well as in summer. His opinion was corroborated by Dr Baisley, Chairman of the Reading Board of Health and by Selectman Calvin. Rep Frank Tanner, who lives near Dr Baisley, said he too was bothered by the smell, that the law in regard to air pollution is tight, and should take care of this.

Rep Donahue reminded the Dept that the ultimatum of last fall was 'clean house or get out', and requested that something be done immediately.

Woburn Board of Health Agent Ryan gave the story of Woburn's battle to abate the nuisance. Only four piggeries are licensed now and are operating in accordance with recommendations of the Board of Health. The cases of two others are pending before the Superior Court. After the meeting at the State House late last summer of Reading, Stoneham, Woburn, Wilmington town and city officials and of representatives of industries and piggeries, the state ordered the offenders to clean house and to obtain the services of consulting engineers or be closed down. Since then the Woburn Board of Health has done everything it could, and wants the condition abated.

Dr Baisley cited the example of Gloucester where a nuisance had arisen from rotten fish and the processing of waste fish. This situation was completely taken care of by competent engineering.

The consensus of testimony by all complainants was that since the meeting last fall the smell had got worse instead of better.

The other side of the story was told by representatives of industries in the suspected area. The treasurer of the Woburn Processing Co said they had retained Leonard Mandell, a professional engineer, after the State's 1957 ultimatum and that as a result of his investigations and recommendations they expected to be odor free by the first part of July. Mandell explained what he had been doing, stressed that it took time to investigate and to put in new equipment.

The General manager of the Consolidated Chemical Inds. of Woburn said they had cooperated with the Woburn and State Boards of Health, and had engaged Weston & Sampson, well-known consulting engineers of Boston, that they have received a report from them and are acting upon it.

Warner L Smith of Woburn Hide and Leather also said they had hired consultants and were in the process of checking.

Managers of several piggeries testified that they had complied with all recommendations.

Asked if any action had been taken by the City of Woburn, Agent Ryan said it is under consideration.
